EDITORIAL

In the blink of an eye, three months have flown by since the last issue of Valorem, our quarterly publication. If this is your first encounter with our publication, please accept our warmest welcome, and we encourage you to delve into our preceding three editions. Our steadfast dedication remains centered on providing top-notch, thought-provoking content in every publication, and we are thrilled to have you as part of our readership.

In the June 2023 edition, we reflected on the most recent developments at that time, including the inauguration of a new administration in Nigeria. We also delved into the challenges we faced and we advocated for frugality and resilience amidst the growing challenges. We also encouraged more interest in virtual learning, which aimed to benefit both our tutors and students.

In this current edition, we delve into our activities over the past quarter and provide a glimpse of our plans for the upcoming final quarter of the year. In "Reflections on a Quarter: A Commitment to Continuous Value Creation," our Principal Consultant reviews key strategic initiatives from the last quarter. This includes a busy holiday schedule, exciting new collaborations and partnerships, updates from our affiliate brands, partner schools, and more.

We shine a spotlight on the recently concluded Inter-Schools Chess Challenge, offering a comprehensive report on the event's activities. Additionally, we had the privilege of interviewing the Proprietor of College 360, the school whose representatives demonstrated their chess prowess by securing victory in both categories of the Inter-Schools Chess Challenge. We also share details about our recent partnership with Olashore International School, outlining how we plan to provide students from six states with substantial discounts for early enrollment in the 2024/2025 academic session.

Our "Tutors Speak" segment highlights one of our esteemed team members from the Capacity Building and Development Services Team. This individual shares profound insights into their journey in assisting students in achieving academic excellence.

As always, this edition promises to be enlightening, and we eagerly await your feedback, recommendations, and constructive criticisms. We remain receptive to ideas on how we can further enhance our service to you. Thank you for your unwavering support. Wishing you a productive quarter ahead, and we look forward to reconnecting with you in December!

With warm regards,

REFLECTIONS ON A QUARTER: A COMMITMENT TO CONTINUOUS VALUE CREATION

I recall attending an event a few years ago where the speaker posed a thought-provoking question: "As a business, what are your core values?" Up until that point, I had never given this much consideration, but that question lingered in my mind. What were those principles and ideals that our business held in high regard? If we were to define our business, what keywords would stand out? In that moment, five key words came to me: Trust, Empathy, Relationship, Resilience, and Accountability, or simply TERRA for short. These five core values have since become the cornerstone of our approach and interactions with every team member, client, partner, and prospect. We also strive to reflect these values in our everyday lives. Have you thought about your core values? You can start defining them today!

The past three months have been incredibly eventful for us. Firstly, it marked the conclusion of the 2022/2023 academic session, a time when many of our students faced promotional examinations. It was imperative that we upheld our standards, as reflected in their performances. Fortunately, we maintained a flawless 100% record across the board. This is where our core values of Trust and Accountability came into play. We consistently strive to meet our clients' expectations and remain accountable, no matter the circumstances.

We take great pride in our collaborations and never underestimate the importance of Relationships. When the Kids and Teens Resource Center approached us in July 2023, we eagerly partnered with them to organize a memorable International Chess Day Celebration on July 20th, featuring 20 participants.

This event allowed us to contribute to the world of chess and build valuable relationships. From August 10th to 16th, we joined forces with the Office of the Special Adviser to the Ondo State Governor on Gender-Related Matters to train over 80 teenagers in Scrabble, Chess, and Monopoly at the Ondo SuperBoy Tech-n-LEAD Camp.

Additionally, we collaborated with Quickens Computer Limited to facilitate a three-day training session for the management and staff of the Ondo State Ministry of Education, Science, and Technology from August 30th to September 1st. The theme was "Navigating the Digital Age: Strategies for Economic Resilience and Sustainable Growth" (the full lecture series and slides are available on the resources page of our website).

DIGITAL REPOSITIONING OF EDUCATION THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

Three weeks later, we hosted the Inter-Schools Chess Challenge, overcoming various challenges, including two prior postponements in March and June. However, we summoned our Resilience and committed to making it happen. Thankfully, it turned out to be a resounding success. All of these endeavors were underpinned by Empathy - the ability to put ourselves in others' shoes and ensure we didn't let them down or disappoint them, even when it wasn't always convenient.

One of our proudest achievements during this period is our selection as the Designated Partner for student enrollment at Olashore International School, spanning six states, including Ondo, Ogun, Osun, Oyo, Ekiti, and Kwara States. We encourage parents and guardians seeking the highest standards of secondary education and academic excellence for their children to reach out to us and enjoy discounts of up to 35% on fees.

In summary, this marks our journey through the past quarter, and our unwavering commitment persists, even after a decade of operations. We firmly believe that we have only begun to tap into our true potential and, as we look ahead to the future, we do so with hope and courage, fully confident that our possibilities are limitless. We want to express our deep gratitude to our dedicated team members, valued clients, trusted partners, and affiliated brands. We'd like to extend a special acknowledgment to our essential partner brands, CCB and Hessian Partners, as well as our parent group, the TGroup, for their continuous support and collaboration.

After each round, participants accumulated points based on their performance, shaping their rankings in the event. Subsequent rounds matched competitors with comparable scores. The system strived to prevent repeated matchups. After six demanding rounds employing the Swiss pairing format, the ultimate standings are as follows:

OIS utilizes the GL Assessment CAT4 tests as part of its entrance examination. These standardized tests measure candidates' aptitude and potential, independent of their curriculum-based knowledge. The four sections of the examination include:

- Verbal: Thinking with "words"
- Quantitative: Thinking with "figures"
- Non-verbal: Thinking with "shapes"
- Spatial: Thinking with "shapes and space"

The examination is designed to assess a candidate's abilities rather than what they may have learned in school, making it an excellent measure of potential.

CHESS IN EDUCATION: INSPIRING CRITICAL THINKING AND BEYOND AT COLLEGE 360, AKURE, ONDO STATE

Interview with Mr. Oluwatosin Agbanimu Proprietor, College 360

The Inter-Schools Chess Challenge, hosted by Dinamico Consulting, took place at the prestigious Christ Event Center, located on Oke Ijebu Road in Akure, Ondo State, on Saturday, September 23, 2023.

Among the 14 schools that participated, one school truly stood out, securing victory in both categories. The ages 8 to 12 category was won by Dede Oluwaseun, a 12-year-old JSS2 student, while the ages 13 to 17 category was claimed by Akintunde Boluwatife, a 14-year-old SS1 student.

Remarkably, both of these exceptional winners hail from the same institution, College 360, situated in Oba Ile, Akure, Ondo State.

As we delved into the background of this remarkable achievement, we had the privilege of conducting an insightful interview with the proprietor of College 360, Mr. Oluwatosin Oluwole Agbanimu, who holds a degree in Mining Engineering from the Federal University of Technology Akure, Ondo State.

DC: Can you tell us about your background in chess and how your personal experience with the game influenced your decision to make it a priority in College 360's curriculum?

OA: My background in chess stemmed out of my days as a tutorial teacher. I just wanted something to keep the students entertained. And seeing how it builds the cognitive capabilities of a person, I made it mandatory for all.

DC. What motivated you to introduce chess as a part of the school's curriculum, and what benefits do you believe it brings to the students?

OA: The international recognition of the game and the overall development it gives made me put it into the curriculum of the school.

DC. College 360 emerged as the winners in both age categories at the Inter-Schools Chess Challenge. Can you share some insights into the school's chess program and how it contributed to this success?

OA: The school chess program is simple; every teacher must play chess as well as every student must play chess.

DC. How do you ensure that students at College 360 have access to chess education and opportunities to develop their skills within the school?

OA: We make sure we have numerous chess boards in school, and also students must play daily as well as we organize internal competitions termly.

DC. Could you describe any specific initiatives or strategies that you've implemented to promote chess among students and make it an integral part of their educational journey?

OA: Through internal competitions within the school.

DC. What role do you believe chess plays in enhancing students' critical thinking and problem-solving abilities?

OA: Chess plays an important role as it creates thinking in a calculative manner and life-applicable situations.

DC. How has the integration of chess into the curriculum affected the academic performance and overall development of the students at College 360?

OA: It has affected them tremendously. Students who most times play chess become academically better and approach life differently.

DC. Have you observed any changes in the students' behavior, concentration, or teamwork skills as a result of their involvement in chess?

OA: Yes, they become better and more understanding and balanced.

DC. Could you share any success stories or examples of students who have excelled academically or personally due to their engagement with chess at College 360?

OA: They are too numerous to mention. I even have students who have had scholarships in the past. And most students that play chess end up studying great courses at the university.

DC. In your opinion, what are the key skills and qualities that chess helps students develop, and how do these skills translate into real-world applications?

OA: Intelligence, maturity, subtlety, patience, etc. The real world is chess; government plays chess with citizens who are pawns; even larger companies do this. The sacrifice of the seemingly important for the ultimate goal.

DC. College 360 seems to have a strong chess culture. How do you foster a supportive and enthusiastic chess community within the school?

OA: This is simply done by making sure every class is a stronghold. No other games are permitted except chess. We seldom play football, but chess is daily.

DC. What advice would you give to other schools or educators interested in integrating chess into their curricula and achieving similar success?

OA: Simple, education can't survive without chess. They should embrace it as it builds a more balanced set of students.

DC. Can you share any plans or future initiatives for College 360's chess program, and how do you envision its continued growth and impact on students?

OA: We are planning on having a community chess club beyond the school to enable outside participants to engage in the game, and the school students will be the teachers. They learn as they play.

DC. Beyond academic success, what broader life lessons do you believe students can learn through their engagement with chess?

OA: A lot - business, politics, power, succession, critical analysis, etc.

DC. Lastly, how do you see the future of chess education in schools, and what role do you believe it will play in shaping young minds?

OA: Well, in Ondo state, I hope parents wake up. Chess is key to academic performance. Schools should learn to embrace it. Well, if they don't, the few of us who do will lead in all aspects.

DC: Thank you for sharing this valuable insight.
